Chamber requests $67,220 from county council

Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce also proposes $31,500 "extras" promotional package

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has requested an increased grant from the county government -- $67,220, compared to the $50,000 they received last year.

The Chamber's board of directors was well-represented last Wednesday morning at the regular meeting of Haliburton county council.

In addition to the $67,220, the Chamber has offered six additional promotional programs as options for the county to consider. The total cost of the additional programs is $31,500, but the Chamber has given the county the option of picking one or more of the programs, and providing additional funding -- or not funding the options at all.

Four part programs

There's four sections in the Chamber's activities plan for the 1983 fiscal year. Chamber representative Ken Langdon described the four stages.

- The Chamber Marketing Plan is "designed to create more activity which will have an impact on our economy by those already here -- whether they be residents or visitors

- The Tourist and Convention Bureau Marketing Plan is designed "to bring more people into the county either as tourists or for special events, meetings, or conventions"

- The "Extras," the afore-mentioned option package which includes six promotional projects

- The Administration Budget, which is used "to keep the Chamber and its welcome centre in place and functioning on behalf of the county and our members

The Chamber Marketing Plan, according to Chamber information, will require no county funds whatsoever, and "is a completely new approach...to stimulate business with our participating members."

The plan will include workshops and seminars, a "treat them royally" campaign designed to attract comments from -- and identify problems encountered by visitors to the area, and a "shop and deal in the Highlands" campaign involving "a catchy theme and logo that will be used in various ways to promote business for the participants. A discount coupon book will be sold and those funds used to finance the entire campaign."

The Tourist and Convention Bureau Marketing section has also been altered from last year. The Chamber wants to "combine a summer and winter accommodation guide with 'lure' information that relates to each of the seasons," rather than promoting the "lure" brochure and accommodation guides separately. The 50,000 lure brochures now in stock "will be used...in distribution centres, along with an inquiry card...based on experience already gained through COTA participation in this program we can count on a very significant number of enquiries being generated through this program."

research and a five-year master plan "for marketing our county."

Finally, there's the administration budget. The administration budget will include the former county Economic Development Commission -- now a Chamber committee.

"It is assumed that council does not wish to designate specific funds to that cause and that any administration required will be absorbed into our administration budget. The budget reflects this concept," reads the Chamber's information package.

"With even more activity planned for the coming year we must now move to a full-time staff of three. The budget reflects a six per cent increase for existing staff, plus another $4,000 to hire a full-time, rather than part-time staffer."

Last year's achievements

As it was last year, the Chamber's directory advertising will be sold through COTA.

There will be county maps, convention brochures, marketplace shows, and a convention kit in the plans for 1983.

Other promotional devices that will be incorporated include travel shows, the Harvest Festival, a news release program, a decal campaign, media advertising in the Star's resort section, workshops and seminars, the Chamber toll-free booking and information telephone service, and more programs. This portion of the budget will require $28,220 from the county.

Some very interesting programs are listed in the $31,500 "extras" section. There's a plan for a TV ad campaign on local stations "that reach large numbers of cable viewers in the metro area," a plan for interchangeable signs on county vehicles, field signs, continuation of the weather report plan, marketing ($65,550) of last year's budget was raised by the membership. The rest came from the county, through a $50,000 grant.

A total of $28,000 of the county's funds went towards general administration, while the rest went towards marketing administration, brochures and directories, media advertising, weather reports, news release program, sports and travel shows, convention development, the INWATS phone service, the Harvest Festival, bus tours, and the plastic bag promotion campaign.

Figures show that out of town "visitor party" inquiries handled by the Chamber increased from $3,489 in 1981 to $3,619 in 1982. Out of town phone inquiries increased from 645 to 754, over the same period, although INWATS calls handled for subscribers were down to 4,474 from 4,959 over the same period.

County and Joe Curtin debate need for a $300,000 bridge at Ingoldsby narrows

It's now up to hearing officer James Webster of Fenelon Falls to decide whether or not Haliburton County should expropriate an approximate 50x30x60 triangle of land from Joe Curtin of Ingoldsby to make way for a new county bridge over the narrows.

Curtin, county engineer Bill Obee and the county's lawyer David R. Gemmill of Lindsay gave evidence and conducted cross-examinations in a one-and-a-half day hearing at the county office in Minden last week. Webster said it will take about two weeks before a final decision can be handed down.

There was a lot of repetition throughout the hearing, as Curtin continually re-stated his major concerns. He brought up the issue of the height of the bridge, stating that the four-foot-ten high water clearance would prove to be a serious impediment to boat traffic at the narrows. Obee and Gemmill said that the four-foot-ten figure represented the highest level of water ever recorded at the site -- and was also a figure taking in spring, when no boats pass under the bridge.

Curtin produced seven letters from area residents opposed to the structure, most on the grounds that it might impede boat traffic. Obee introduced, as an exhibit, a petition that had been circulated by Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Pat Burk. The petition indicated that respondents in favor of the new bridge outnumber those against it by 90-6.

The county also introduced a letter from the Canning Lake Property Owners Association, which stated that "the association is anxious to see a new bridge" at the narrows. The letter also asked for information about the boat clearance of the proposed structure.

In his reply to CLPOA, Obee admitted that the historic high water level of the area is four foot ten inches, but added that the normal high water level would be "about seven and a half feet, in normal boating conditions."

Cost of bridge

Curtin maintained throughout the hearing that the cost of the new structure, estimated at $300,000 by the firm of Greer Galloway and Associates, could not be justified -- since the existing bridge, according to a bridge inspection report prepared in 1980 by Totten, Sims, Hubicki and Associates could be repaired for $100,000.

At the request of the hearing officer, Curtin proposed a different site for the bridge -- farther to the north -- which he said would avoid the "frying pan" styled sharp curves leading into the proposed new bridge site.

Gemmill and Obee calculated that Curtin's alternate site, once the cost of property purchases and added bridge length were calculated, would cost about $700,000.

Lawyer Gemmill said that the bridge, if it was replaced at a cost of $300,000, would last for fifty years -- compared to ten years more life if $100,000 was spent to repair it.

"Mr Curtin would have us spend $700,000 (for an alternate site) or $100,000 (for repairs) to avoid taking a triangular piece of land measuring 50 feet by 30 feet by 60 feet," said Gemmill in his summation.

All costs would be subsidized at a rate of 80 per cent by the MTC.

Disputed traffic counts

Another issue brought forward by Curtin was that of the traffic counts taken on county road 18 between 1973 and 1981. The average annual daily traffic on the road, from a point located .2 km east of highway 121, ranged from 450 in 1973, 490 in 1978, 530 in 1980 and 480 in 1981. The average summer traffic rate ranged from 752, 906, 980, and 1036 over the same period.

Curtin maintained, in this summation, that these figures represented a decline in traffic along the road -- and therefore along the bridge. He estimated that 25 per cent of cars passing over the loop did not actually cross the bridge. He also challenged the validity of the county's testing.

"There is no demonstrated increase in traffic flow" over the last two years, he said. He called once again for repairs to the existing one-lane bridge.

However, Curtin's own figures from MTC sources indicated that the ministry will not authorize replacement of bridges handling an average less than 200 vehicles per day, annually. Obee and Gemmill also said the figures could be taken to show an increase in traffic. Obee said the county's estimate for vehicular traffic was that by 1990 there would be 700 vehicles per day passing through the area.

3 less councillors in 1985

County council will be trimmed from 19 to 16 members in 1985, in order that representation more fairly reflects the population and apportionment of Haliburton County.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, admitting he was putting himself in "an unpopular position" said the system will give larger municipalities (Dysart and Anson, Hindon and Minden) more voting power. The deputy-reeve of Cardiff, Monmouth and Snowdon will lose their seats at county council.

The new system is based on census, apportionment and electoral data from 1982, and will go into effect in 1985.

Currently, the reeve and deputy-reeve of each county municipality gets a vote each. Under the new system:

- Dysart's reeve and deputy-reeve would get two votes each
- Anson, Hindon and Minden's reeve would get two votes, while the AHM deputy-reeve would get one
- Stanhope, Sherborne et al, Glamorgan and Lutterworth township reeves and deputy-reeves would continue to have one vote apiece
- Snowdon, Monmouth and Cardiff deputy-reeves would lose their seats and votes, while all three reeves would have one vote each
- Bicroft's reeve would continue to have one vote (there is no deputy-reeve in that municipality)

As mentioned, the data reflects population, apportionment and electoral count data.

Dysart et al, with 38.33 per cent of apportionment will receive four votes. Anson, Hindon and Minden, with 17.08 per cent of apportionment receives three.

The smaller municipalities, such as Snowdon (3.82 per cent of apportionment), Monmouth (3.55 per cent) and Cardiff (5.21) will no longer have the same voting power as the larger municipalities.

"The new system won't be effective until the next election," Fearrey told county councillors. His advice for deputy-reeves who might lose their seats in 1985 -- "you'll just have to oust your reeve at the next election."

The system is straight out of the provinces municipal act, sections 27, 28 and 29. A similar proposal that would have allowed the three township's deputy-reeves to sit at the council table but refrain from voting was turned down by the ministry.

Fearrey said things may change -- "Cardiff may, for example, get to send another member back in five years," he said. He also reminded all that "only a few years ago some of you didn't have deputy-reeves sitting on county council."

OPP report

During the period from February 14 to 20 personnel at Minden detachment investigated seven motor vehicle accidents and 43 general occurrences including four liquor offences and three break and enters.

Drug charge

A 23 year old Minden man, Grant Porter, has been charged with trafficking in a narcotic.

The alleged offence took place last week at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. It is alleged that cigarettes resembling marijuana joints and held out to be Hawaiian marijuana were sold to students. In fact, the cigarettes consisted of tobacco and ordinary tea leaves -- no honor among users? The charge, which carries a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, reads "No person shall traffic in a narcotic or any substance represented or held out by him to be a narcotic." The investigation is being conducted by PC Al Bibby and PC Dennis Potter.

Ingoldsby youths sentenced

A series of crimes which began last June and ended in December resulted in imprisonment for one Ingoldsby youth and probation for another. Timothy Eastman, 19, of Ingoldsby received a sentence of one year in prison plus two three-month concurrent sentences. The offences included an assault with a club on a teenage youth, a rampage against a new house in Ingoldsby which resulted in $8,000 damage, a break-in at the county roads department shed in which a truck was smashed and items stolen, the theft of a pickup truck, and finally, the theft of a 1982 model car and a subsequent chase through Minden in which the car and a police cruiser were damaged.

Eastman has been incarcerated since the last occurrence. In addition he was placed on probation for three years and must obtain treatment for alcohol abuse. His licence to drive was suspended for three years.

The second youth, 16 year old Timothy Beaver, of Ingoldsby, was involved in some of the above offences and received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for two years.

Chamber proposes four-part plan

Tourist mail inquiries, on the other hand, doubled from 686 in 1981 to 1,287 in 1982.

"Accommodation demand in our region increased by an average of four per cent over the year. Individual accommodation establishments varied from static to 17 per cent increase in occupancy," states Chamber information. "We feel, considering the state of the economy, that we are increasing our market share."

Advance bookings for the winter were excellent, but poor weather caused business to be "down" this season.

The Haliburton Chamber?

Anson, Hindon and Minden deputy-reeve Ed Pergolas was the first councillor to ask a question of Langdon. He asked Langdon what the Chamber's full name was.

"The Haliburton Highlands

Chamber of Commerce," replied Langdon.

"Five times during your presentation you referred to it as the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce," said Pergolas accusingly. The council chamber buzzed for a few seconds after his remark -- which was left unanswered.

Cardiff deputy-reeve Ross Duncan asked Langdon to project the Chamber's forecasted total expenditures for fiscal 1983. He was told that, without the $31,500 "extras" package, the Chamber is hoping for a budget of $132,710 this year.

Stanhope deputy-reeve Elgin Stouffer mentioned the possibility of the Chamber building a new office on the highway 35 bypass -- an office that could be incorporated with a real estate office.

An angered Murray Fearrey of Dysart got to his feet and told Stouffer that "the management committee...feels that would set a dangerous precedent, and find the idea (of melding the Chamber with a real estate office) totally unacceptable."

Chamber president Rhonda Elstone made several key comments after the meeting re-opened at the Wagon Wheel restaurant in Lutterworth township.

"We don't like to think (of county funding) as a grant, but as a marketing budget," she said. She said the Chamber is asking for a total of $98,000, including the "extras" package. "We consider the extras very important...but they are the first things we'd drop," she said.

"We feel it's important to (channel) money in marketing...we can't sit back and not advertise," she said.

MTR presentation

Mike Walker of the ministry of tourism and recreation was the next to speak. He began by showing a ministry film on the economic importance of tourism.

After the film's end, Walker pointed to some interesting figures. In 1981, he said, there were 2.3 million "person-trips" to Haliburton county. About $76 million was spent locally by tourists, he added.

Tourism provided more than "4,000 person-years" of employment in the area.

He discussed the idea that every dollar spent on tourism "generates another dollar" in the same area. As well, he noted that the provinces spending on tourism is up 13 per cent this year -- even in these times of restraint.

"The province will certainly continue to be supportive of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce...and additional support will be forthcoming," he said.

HCHSS asks county for 1983 funding aid

Volunteer group dedicated to helping seniors stay in their homes -- as long as possible

A number of bases were touched last Wednesday as the Haliburton county council met for their regular monthly meeting with all members present.

STANHOPE RESOLUTION

A resolution from the township of Stanhope was read aloud, on the subject of the municipal airport there. At their February 9 meeting, the township passed a motion stating that their council "at the present time... is not interested in any change of ownership (for) the Stanhope airport."

On that same day, the county's road committee passed a motion stating that they "would take no further action" on the possible change of ownership at the airport "until a formal request is made by Stanhope township."

Council was informed that the roads committee decision was made before word came in from Stanhope.

HCHSS REQUEST FOR GRANT

Ivan Hunter, chairman of the Haliburton County Home Support Services was on hand to make council aware of the volunteer group's plans for 1983.

"Our aim," he said, "is to help senior citizens remain in their homes for as long as possible... as long as their health will permit." It's important, he added, to "make our seniors feel they are indeed part of our community... we want to be there to help them."

Hunter asked the county for a grant of $1,500. The money would be used, in conjunction with grants from the community and social services ministry, to run HCHSS projects. The group has an information office, and is actively involved in training new volunteers, said Hunter.

In all there are 300 volunteers in HCHSS, and an executive of 30 members, he said. "We hope you will look on our request (for funds) favorably," concluded Hunter.

Among the many projects carried out by the group are the successful "fone-a-friend" service, wheels to meals and meals on wheels programs, visits to seniors, transportation, and much more.

ROADS COMMITTEE

Bill Obee, the county engineer, reported for the county roads committee. At present crews are hard at work doing general "sanding and plowing work," and are brushing the right of way for the Hawk Lake Road," he said. The latter project will be in the 1983 budget, said Obee.

Obee said an OEDP grant, in the amount of $15,000, had been received. The county will administer the funds, which will create six 14-week jobs.

The long-awaited waste management study, commissioned for the county, is still not ready, said Obee. It arrived with "several typographical errors," said the county engineer.

Deputy-reeve Ross Duncan of Cardiff expressed dismay over the deal. He asked whether the remaining fees for the study were being withheld from the consulting firm, pending receipt of the finished study.

Obee replied that they were. Reeve Bob McCausland of Glamorgan township asked if he could see the draft study as soon as possible.

Minden's Jack Brezina launches second paper

The Times, they are a-changing... or in this case, expanding.

Jack Brezina, publisher and editor of The Times of Minden, has launched a second newspaper in the Fenelon Falls/Bobcaygeon area. The new effort will be known as the North Kawartha Times.

Brezina, interviewed Monday, said he was looking forward to the new venture. People in the North Kawartha area seem "very excited...and the response has been very favorable," he said. "We wouldn't be there," he added, "if it wasn't for encouragement from potential readers and advertisers."

The paper will serve a wide area, from Bobcaygeon north to Kinmount and Norland. "I felt there was a need for a newspaper willing to get involved in community events, and report on events taking place in the area," said Brezina.

The idea "has been in the back of my mind for a number of years," he said, but "gelled in the last three or four months."

The editor of the new paper is

Alex Riddell, a newspaper man with several years of experience in Brampton, Erin, and northern Ontario. Sue Stewart of Fenelon Falls will be the advertising representative for the North Kawartha Times, and a third staff member "will be hired shortly," said Brezina.

Like The Times of Minden, the sister paper will be a tabloid. Emphasis will be placed on covering local municipal councils, the board of education, features and sports, said publisher Brezina.

Although both Times will be put together at Brezina's offices in Minden, using typesetting and production facilities there, Brezina doesn't envisage much overlap between the two papers -- due to the diverse nature of the two communities.

The first issue of the North Kawartha Times will hit the streets March 2.

The new offices of the newspaper are located in Fenelon Falls.

County library is goldmine

There's a world of information at the fingertips of county residents, thanks to the efforts of the Haliburton County Public Library.

County librarian Stan MacDougall was on hand last Wednesday to report on the library's activities last year and its plans for 1983 -- and produced some very impressive statistics.

The ten-branch (Bicroft, Dorset, Dysart, Glamorgan, Highland Grove, Lutterworth, Minden, Monmouth, Snowdon and Stanhope) system is funded by the county and provincial governments. Last year Wintario and BILD grants from the province were received.

The county provided $51,200 to the library last year, while the province contributed $71,102 directly, $5,000 from Wintario, and $4,500 through BILD.

The library's holdings have now grown to 30,285 books, 248 films, 901 cassettes and 20 "talking books" for those with vision problems.

There are three full-time and 22 part-time employees within the system. The library also is linked by teletype to the 14 largest libraries from Kingston in the east, Port Hope in the west, and Peterborough and Lindsay in the north, for inter-library loans.

In other words, county residents not only have access to the more than 30,000 books in the system, but hundreds of thousands of other titles at libraries in the Lake Ontario regional system, explained MacDougall.

The county library is the National Film Board representative for Haliburton, and all NFB films must be ordered through them.

MacDougall concluded his remarks by noting that Snowdon reeve Bob Vick, a member of the library board, will be reporting on the board's activities to council.

Lyn Wyslyk of Toronto took second place honors for her costume at Skinannigans, held at Sir Sam's ski area as part of Carnival 1983. She was dressed as a nurse -- but the winners came dressed as the seven dwarves!

To contact German firms

Stanhope deputy-reeve Elgin Stouffer announced last Wednesday that an attempt will be made to contact German wood products firms, in order to see whether or not they might consider establishing a plant in the county.

He made his remarks at last Wednesday's meeting of Haliburton county council.

Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott has been consulted for advice on how best to get in contact with foreign industries, said Stouffer. The deputy-reeve suggested that a budget of $500 could be made available, so that the industries "might have a look at what we have to offer...and we could present the county in its best possible light."

He commented as well on recent jobs in forestry in the county -- including the creation of 56 positions in Hindon township forests. The Haliburton Forest Owners Association, he said, is continuing a battle to slash "through the red tape."

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey called for something "a little more concrete" from Stouffer's forest management committee.

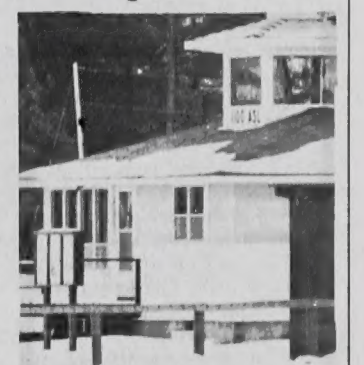

He said efforts should be made for a tree-cutting by-law like Dysart's in other parts of the county.

Airport plan is requested

Stanhope township is requesting a preliminary master plan for the development of the municipal airport on the east side of the Airport Road.

At a regular meeting of council February 9 the following motions were passed:

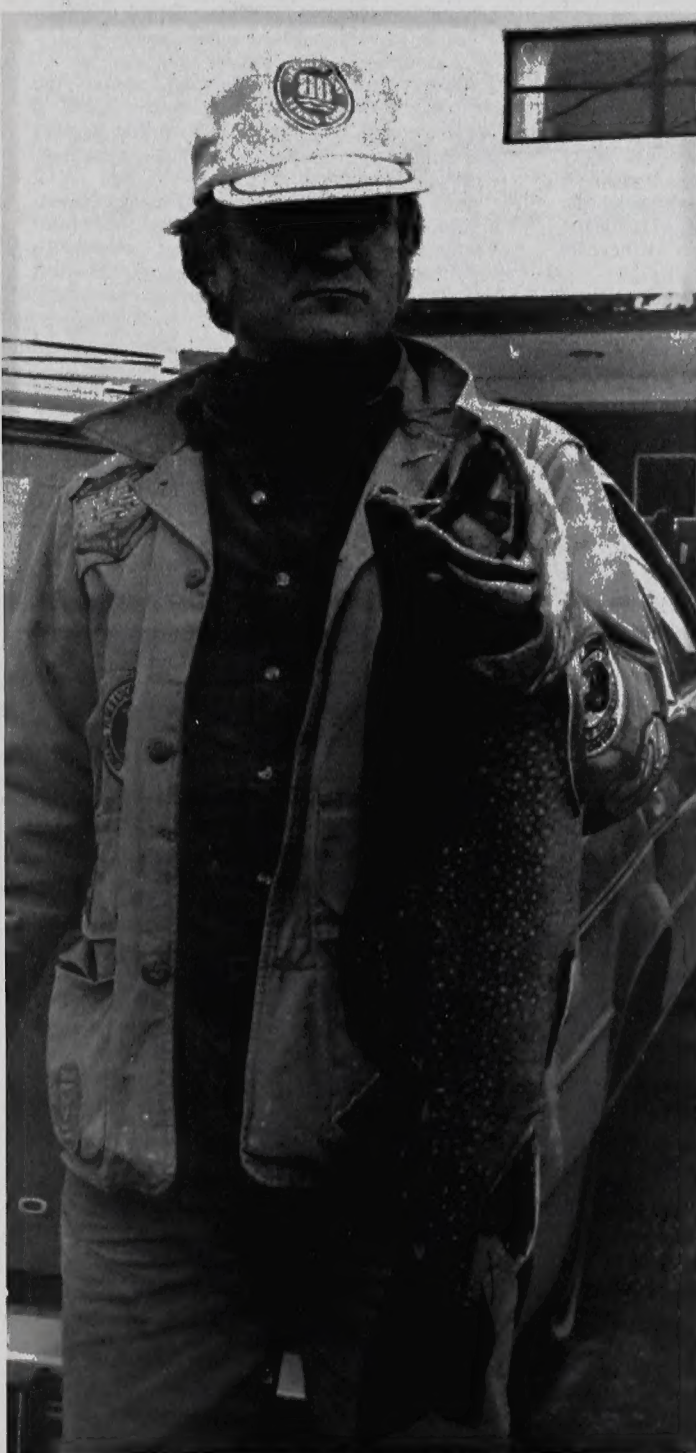

- that the clerk advise the council of the municipality of Dysart et al that Stanhope is requesting a preliminary master plan for the development of the Haliburton Highlands Stanhope Airport on the east side of the Airport Road...council respectfully requests the cooperation of Dysart in the implementation of appropriate zoning by-laws in Guilford township upon receipt of this preliminary plan
- that the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (be advised) that Stanhope wishes to proceed with a preliminary master plan for the development of the airport on the east side of Airport Road.
- that council inform the county of Haliburton that the township of Stanhope, at the present time, is not interested in any change of ownership of the Haliburton

Stanhope tower

Highlands Stanhope airport. Because of the Good Roads conference in Toronto neither Reeve Murray Fearrey of Dysart et al nor Reeve Harry Davis of Stanhope could be reached Monday.

Curtis Eastmure of Maple Sands Resort said he and partner Tom Anthes will wait until the study is completed before voicing further comment. The pair spoke against development west of the Airport Road at the February 9 meeting of council.

Art Ouellette of Haliburton made a rare catch over the weekend while ice fishing in the Haliburton winter carnival. He hauled in this nine pound speckled trout -- one of the largest such fish caught in this area in years. The world's record for a "speck" is 14 pounds.

The Lumberman's Show

Feir Play Creighton Feir

The 1983 Haliburton Winter Carnival is now history and what a weekend it was. Accommodation was at a premium in Haliburton and area and hundreds of people had to seek accommodation as far away as Wilberforce. The fine weather we had over the weekend really helped to move things along and I was really surprised at the large number of ex-Haliburtonians who came home to visit their friends and relatives over the winter carnival weekend.

When the results were in one could tell that people were in the carnival mood by the way that they participated and attended most of the events that were scheduled. This year the weatherman cooperated to find us some nice warm weather and it was ideal for those spectators who were watching the events held outdoors.

All the events that were scheduled for this year's program were a big success and all well-attended. The three dances were sold out and people had to be turned away from the dance held at the Legion Hall on Saturday night. The pancake supper had a larger crowd than usual and the Chalkdusters hockey tournament was filled with thrills and spills.

The snowmobile events held on Head Lake on both Saturday and Sunday were a big hit with the snowmobile enthusiasts and the events drew much larger crowds than usual. The Lumberman's show held Saturday afternoon at the fairgrounds was a big hit with a large crowd that turned out for this event.

The free Friday night skating party held from 5:30 pm to 7:30 pm on Friday evening at the arena was a huge success as both young and old were on hand for two hours of skating. Hundreds were on hand at Sir Sam's Ski Area for the many events that were held there.

A task force to look into the problems of small town Ontario has been established by the Ontario Liberals, and will be headed by Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins. Liberal leader David Peterson announced recently.

Rural municipalities have been getting the short end of the stick for too long said Peterson, who addressed a meeting of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario. The task force will be looking for ways to stabilize the economies and work forces of Ontario's towns and townships. The task force is expected to hold hearings in local communities to identify local concerns as well as looking for solutions to them. David Peterson said.

According to the Highland Rotooter the troubles of the world could be eliminated if everyone would put himself in the other persons place.

My congratulations to Melanie Dewey of Gooderham, Ontario, the new 1983 Haliburton Winter Carnival Queen who was crowned at a teen dance held in conjunction with the Winter Carnival at the arena auditorium in Haliburton last Friday night. Congratulations also to the two princesses, Kathy Tyler and Jenny Rendall.

At a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton Gerry Dawson gave a very informative talk on the subject of Rotary Foundation. Three objectives are the scholarship program of a one-year-term, the Group Study Exchanges and the 3-H Program - Health, Hunger and Humanity. Gerry pointed out that the Rotary Club of Haliburton had donated $7,000 to date to Rotary Foundation -- a minimum contribution each year of $500 was suggested. The week of February 20-26, 1983 has been labelled World Understanding Week.

I just received a note this week stating that the Victoria-Haliburton PC Youth Association are planning a winter fest at Byrnell Manor Ski Club at Fenelon Falls this coming Saturday, February 26 starting at 2:00 pm. Planned events include skiing, skating and other outdoor activities. A dinner and dance will follow. The cost is $12 per person and this includes trail fees, dinner and dance, rental of ski equipment extra. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Haliburton Huskies who are Haliburton County's junior hockey club missed the playoffs this year and their season is over. The Minden Monarch Juniors who are made up of players from both Minden and Haliburton are very much in the playoffs and at present they are steam rolling over all opposition that meets them. Let's all hope that fans from both villages will go and cheer this team on to victory.

Joe Banks of Haliburton, a former employee of the Haliburton County Echo and now editor of the Almonte Gazette was visiting with his parents Jackie and Don Banks here for a couple of days last week. Joe dropped into the office for a chat and to meet his friends he used to work with here at the Echo. I congratulated Joe for the achievement his paper received for winning an unprecedented five major awards. These were selected by the Ontario Community Newspaper Association. Congratulations Joe, once again, for a job well done.

A total of $34,000 was raised in Rotary District 701 for the diabetes hospital in Santa Domingo, Haliburton and Minden clubs are both in this same district.

Chamber budget

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has asked the county government for $67,220 in funding for the 1983 fiscal year.

It's very tough for the Chamber when budget time rolls around. Any negative feelings towards the organization seem to surface whenever the March budget approaches -- witness the comments of AHM's councillor Gary Kenney two weeks ago and deputy-reeve Ed Pergolas last week.

The Chamber has also asked for an additional $31,500 for additional promotional programs -- including an ambitious television advertising scheme. But the group has shown their willingness to bend with the economic times, and the additional programs will be dropped if the county does not want to fund them.

While there has been restraint in most other areas of county and provincial spending, the Chamber is asking for a $17,220 increase. It's not an unrealistic request -- since provincial spending in tourism has gone up by 13 per cent in recent years.

However, it would seem a good bet that the Chamber's funding will be kept to a five and six per cent increase for the coming year.

The Chamber often gets some unwarranted criticism. For example, few people realize the group's own membership raised 57 per cent of the Chamber's 1982 budget. The Chamber did not simply rely on county funds to operate -- it expanded its programming with them.

We've all been made aware of the importance of tourism in the county. More than $76 million was spent by tourists here last year -- and more than 2.3 million "person-trips" were made to the area.

Responding perhaps to charges that not enough attention is being paid to improving the local market, the Chamber has offered a new program aimed at improving local business. The Chamber Marketing Plan will attempt to improve local business -- and will aim at keeping more county residents shopping here.

The Chamber's own membership will finance that plan, while the bulk of county funding will go into the Tourist and Convention Marketing program and general administration.

The county government made funding available to the Chamber because they felt the group could do a better job promoting Haliburton County. By splitting their budget into three distinct areas -- local marketing, tourist and convention marketing, and administration (there's also the fourth of optional programs) the Chamber is making its intentions clear.

One unfortunate reality, and one that has been brought up at Anson, Hindon and Minden council, is that there is no specific county funding going towards the continuance of the economic development commission.

While the Chamber will be responsible for that organization, it will receive no additional funding

Storeowners, municipality should sand sidewalks

To the Editor:

Letters of criticism can be constructive, so perhaps in the future, the municipality and the store owners of the village of Haliburton can make a concerted effort in snow removal on sidewalks and parking lots.

Today, Friday, February 18 was a traumatic experience for anyone over 40 years of age.

One store owner informed me he had difficulty in getting sand for his parking area; a municipal spokesman says they are only responsible for roads and sidewalks -- it's impossible to park a car and reach the sidewalk in safety.

Many folk in stores this morning were angry and frustrated, so I suggest to those people in charge, smarten up, co-operate, and make the village streets and parking lots accessible for the many seniors in the area, who after all have to shop to eat.

There should be more MP's pumping gas: reader

To the Editor:

Your editorial "Anti-Metric Nonsense" seemed to me to be just that; nonsense!

The cost to the Canadian Public of "Metricification" are incalculable.

There is no comparison, as you suggest between changing the flag, currency, and color on your can labels and revising our country's standards of measurement.

There has not been - to date - one tangible benefit to our country in the "switch" to metric measurement.

All we have accomplished -- so far -- is to cost businesses money to convert to metric measurement, employ an army of federal civil servants to "spread the word" and confuse the average taxpayer.

What has the conversion done to help our depressed economy?

In terms of costs, we can probably "change back" cheaper than we can finish the conversion!

Is it colder in Haliburton at 0° C or 32° F?

Good luck to the PC members selling gas by the gallon. We need more people like them!

Yours very truly,
Donald G. Coates

Fuss about metric ridiculous, archaic: reader

To the Editor:

Some members of federal parliament including our own member, Mr Scott, are still fussing about the change to metric. In this age of the micro-processor they look ridiculous.

Amazing changes have to be made if Canada is to survive in the new, industrial, computer universe and 37 of the men sent to Ottawa to manage the affairs of state are out pumping gas. If these men had lived when the telephone began they would have remained loyal to smoke signals.

Carnival a hit

Well, the Carnival weekend in Haliburton is history for 1983 -- and I can now look forward to a quiet evening reading a book, watching TV, or what have you.

While most of you enjoyed the Carnival, I spent the bulk of the weekend frantically driving the Echo van from event to event. Luckily, I had some reinforcements in the persons of Les Iles and Steve Dawson, who also took pictures -- but my head's still not in focus.

When I close my eyes, I see ATVs and snow machines leaping across watery chasms, spinning stones curling gently down the rink, pucks whizzing across my line of sight and skiers carving their way down the slopes of Sir Sam's ski area.

It's obvious that the carnival was a success -- far beyond the projections of organizers. More than double the expected field of competitors arrived for races on the lake, and the international darts tournament drew a packed house at the Legion.

The Lumberman's show proved to be a crowd-pleaser, and Chalkdusters and OMHA playoff action at the arena drew large numbers of spectators.

You couldn't get a place to park by the lake, or downtown.

While the Carnival was excellent, there's room for improvement. There should be, perhaps, a more elaborate opening ceremony, one that participants and spectators from all could attend before going their separate ways to enjoy the many carnival activities.

Mystery deaths

Once more the mysterious deaths of 28 babies in the cardiac ward of the Hospital for Sick Children are in the news. Liberal MPP Sheila Copps raised the matter in the Legislature following receipt from an anonymous sender of an internal study by experts at the hospital. The report indicates that critical digoxin tests used by police may have been highly misleading, because high digoxin levels found in exhumed bodies cannot be linked to foul play by the tests alone.

Her call for a public inquiry into the matter was further dramatized when it was announced a few days after her statement that the police investigation into the deaths had been ended. The long-awaited report on the deaths of infant heart patients has been completed, and the minister of health has stated that the Attorney-General will decide whether the report will be made public.

Education Bill

In protest against the controversial Bill 127 -- the Metro education bill, more than 300 parents, teachers and children filled the public galleries of the Legislature, and overflowed into nearby hallways. A government move to cut off debate brought stiff opposition from the other two parties.

Commemorative coin

At the February 16 meeting of County Council it was agreed that a commemorative coin should be struck to celebrate the inaugural year of our full fledged county status. The Chamber is pleased to be a working partner with the county on this program and it will be our job to see that the 10,000 coins are distributed. The coins will be worth $1 within the county until the end of 1983, after which they will likely become even more valuable as collectors' items.

The coin design will carry the County crest on one side, which incidentally is derived from the family coat of arms of Thomas Chandler Haliburton after whom the county was named. The other side will carry a head and shoulders likeness of Chief Justice Haliburton and the inscription "Provisional County of Haliburton, est 1874" and "Ontario's Newest County 1983."

Ten coins will be "mint marked" with an intentional flaw, making them worth $25 to anyone who finds one. These will be mixed in at random with the 10,000 coins and they could show up anywhere. Advance orders may be placed for some coins to be minted in fine silver at $25 each if received prior to the date of minting.

We are sure all of you will want a souvenir of this very momentous year in the development of our county and we look forward to making these coins available in cooperation with the county.

Province sells "Awareness"

In conjunction with the Chamber's annual budget presentation last week at County Council a new film just produced by the ministry of tourism was shown to members by ministry consultant Mike Walker. The film is specifically designed to impress municipal planners, officials and council members with just what a broad impact tourism has on any local economy and how important it is for the community to support this industry. The film is an excellent one and we hope that we can get it again so that more of you can see it because everyone, not just our elected representatives, should be made more fully aware of the message it carries.

In his accompanying remarks Walker stated that in 1981 Tourism visitation to Haliburton County amounted to 2.3 million person trips and that direct Tourism Expenditures are estimated at $76 million. Anyone who doubts that tourism is important to our county should be impressed by those figures.

He agreed that we are getting an excellent return on the investment we are making in promotion of tourism and felt that if at all possible we should be doing more.

Carnival should capitalize on the large crowds

in that area -- and will have to operate with funds from its general administration budget.

That move has irked AHM in particular, since they are best-equipped to handle a resurgence of industry in the county. The municipality is equipped with a water and sewer system and feels that fact should be brought forward by the Chamber.

Let's get one thing straight. The Chamber, love them or hate them, is an organization run by volunteers -- an organization with substantial funding from its own membership. They are doing a difficult job the best they can -- and are always open to new suggestions.

The county, for $50,000, could not accomplish on its own the same things the Chamber has done.

The first time the provincial government used closure was to end debate on the government's purchase of 25 per cent of Suncor. Time allocations were again brought into force last fall to end debate on the restraint program. The education bill marks the third time. Commented columnist Orland French of Toronto's Globe and Mail "it took nearly 39 years to bring in closure. It (the government) listened to weeks of debate before allocating time on the restraint bill. But it brought in time allocations on Bill 127 even before final debate began. Like murder, it gets easier every time."

Farm Auction

The Minister of Agriculture indicated he wasn't surprised when 500 cheering farmers took over a farm liquidation sale in Palmerston recently. The farmers had chased away a bank-appointed auctioneer and sold $100,000 worth of agricultural equipment for $19.81, and members of the Canadian Farmers Survival Association said they will lease the machinery back to the bankrupt farmer for $1 a year so that he can continue working his 200 acre beef farm. Liberal farm critic Jack Riddell (Huron-Middlesex) warned in the Legislature that the Palmerston flare-up is "just one of many brushfires we are going to see across the province." He called upon the minister to develop low-interest rate programs.

The province will spend this year $21.5 million to promote tourism in Ontario. That budget has been increased by 13 per cent over 1982 because in spite of the restraint measures being taken in government, tourism promotion is recognized as one way to stimulate a sluggish economy. The next level of promotion is the Central Ontario Travel Association with whom we work very closely.

They have been working with a $35,000 administration grant and a $50,000 promotional grant from the province. Word has just been received that their promotional grant has been increased by 40 per cent to $70,000. This will allow for a considerable expansion of their marketing plan.

The Chamber's presentation to council showed our budget being broken into four sections. The administration budget, which of course is necessary to form the base from which to operate, the chamber marketing budget, which is self sustaining, and the Tourist and Convention Bureau Marketing plan which will require just over 50 per cent county funding, and the optional extras if funds are available. The "optional extras" should not be viewed as less important because they are classified as not be implemented independently if funds are available without disrupting the overall marketing plan that has been created.

The County Budget Committee will consider the plans we have presented and present their recommendations to the next council meeting on March 16.

Economic development commission stays with Chamber

The county and the Chamber have agreed that there is not enough activity presently taking place to merit supporting a separate Economic Development Commission with a separate budget. The EDC will continue to operate as a committee of the Chamber and its administration will be absorbed by the Chamber's administration budget. There will, however, no longer be funds available to have Jack Fleming continue to visit and advise business owners on their expansion or financial concerns, and this service is no longer available.

This change certainly does not imply that we or the county have given up on attracting new industry to the county, but it does reflect our priorities at a time when every dollar spent must have a reasonable chance of showing a return.

The Chamber's committee will certainly endeavour to build on the past efforts of the EDC and would be pleased to hear from anyone that has a concern we can help with. Call the Chamber office at 286-1760.

Report from Parliament

Bill Scott, M.P.

Spending overboard

The finance minister has just asked the House of Commons to approve a new borrowing authority bill. It would give the government authority to borrow an additional $5 billion to meet its financial requirements up to the end of this fiscal year. This represents a cash over expenditure of almost 20 per cent based on last October's prediction. The government has, since June 1982, escalated our debt load to $26.1 billion. No one is surprised, as this has been expected for a few months now.

What was unexpected is that they also asked for authority to borrow funds for the next fiscal year beginning in April. This without even giving an accounting for the first $5 billion they require for this year. The minister of finance refuses to say why it is necessary to have this funding approved in advance. He simply said that it would tide the government over "for the first few months while people will consider the budget" that he proposes to introduce before April 1. Is this to give the Liberals time to stage a leadership convention? Possibly, the real answer is that they do not want anything controversial in the budget which could be debated in the course of a budget debate. In any case, the minister of finance does not feel Canadians need to know why he is asking for authority to borrow billions of dollars on their behalf.

On the other hand, last fall I received many letters from old age security recipients complaining that their social insurance number was now showing in the clear window of the envelope enclosing their cheque. Quite rightly, they requested I raise this problem with the minister of health and welfare. The response I received was that this might have occurred in a few cases by computer error and that other methods of addressing cheques would be investigated.

This seemed like a legitimate answer, as I am sure that while computers do not make mistakes on their own, sometimes their programmers do and as long as it was corrected, as I was assured it would be, no long term damage would be done.

Now we see that this error was not done in only a few cases, but has produced the greatest issue of social insurance numbers ever seen. All personalized income tax forms have your social insurance number printed on them and can be seen in the envelope window. Not only that, but your average 1979-81 income is also on the form. It appears the government realizes that, as stated by the privacy commissioner, "no law whatsoever exists to protect the social insurance number" despite their statements that this was not done intentionally. If it was a programming error then why wasn't it corrected before the forms were sent out. Obviously, the government does not think it matters who knows your personal social insurance number or income. Incidentally, when our PC government was defeated in 1979, a government bill was ready for introduction which would have restricted the use of social insurance numbers and prevented this kind of occurrence.

These actions highlight the fact that the current philosophy of the government seems to be that what they do should be private information whereas what the individual does should be public information. That is backwards in my books.

Composer receives answer from Fox family

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Bill Gliddon of Haliburton by Rolly and Betty Fox, parents of the late Terry Fox.

Dear Mr. Gliddon:

Thank you for your letter informing us of the musical work that you composed as a tribute to our son, Terry entitled "Requiem for Terry Fox".

We are sure that the composition is very beautiful and are grateful that you chose to honor Terry in this way.

It will not be possible for us to attend the performance in April because of a personal commitment but we would be very pleased to receive a tape of the composition if that is possible.

Once again, our sincere thanks and very best wishes.

Yours very truly,

Just by reserving an hour at the beginning of the Chalkdusters tournament -- say, early Friday evening -- a real kick-off could take place, with figure skating and the crowning of the Carnival queen. Or, why not start things off with some fireworks down at Head Lake?

I make these remarks as suggestions, and certainly not as criticisms of this year's well-run, well-attended carnival.

But next year I certainly hope I'm allowed the privilege of putting on my skis for an hour or two, or hopping on a snowmobile, or taking in a complete hockey game.

Bantams overwhelm Angus

The Haliburton Bantams hold a commanding two game lead in their best of five series against Angus. They beat Angus in a very close game last Friday 7 to 6 and then trounced the same club in Haliburton on Sunday 10-2. Angus who lost the flip for the odd home game will be in Haliburton Tuesday night and if the Haliburton club plays as well as they did on Sunday the Angus club should be eliminated.

Friday evening's game in Angus was very exciting as both teams came from behind during the match as Angus played a very physical and positional game. The first period ended up 2 to 1 for Haliburton after Angus had scored the first goal at the six minute mark. Tran LaRue tied the game on an unassisted play and then Jeff Popple scored on a blast from the point with LaRue assisting.

The referees were very lenient in their calls and both teams started to use the body and as a result both teams received two penalties. Angus scored two straight goals at the three and four minute mark to take the lead only to have LaRue score to tie the game once again. Angus then went ahead by two goals before Cory McKnight got the Haliburton club back in the third minute on an unassisted end to end rush.

The third period was all Haliburton as they scored the tying marker by John Burton in the third minute on a power play with LaRue and McKnight assisting. Ron MacDonald notched two goals, the first at the ten minute mark and the eventual winner with only 50 seconds remaining. Angus scored their final goal with only 27 seconds remaining.

On Sunday the visiting Angus team was not in the game as Haliburton outplayed, outshot and outthrew them throughout the contest. Haliburton scored the first six goals of the game before Angus got on the scoreboard at the end of the second period. After that goal it was just a matter of how many they were going to score as the local club played outstanding hockey, passing the puck with authority and capitalizing on every opportunity.

Fran LaRue ended up with three goals and six assists, Ian Cooper had two goals and three assists, Cory McKnight scored twice with a very exciting end to end rush on the second goal as well as an assist. Ron MacDonald notched a pair along with an assist with John Burton rounding out the scoring with a goal and two assists. The Paul Kuno line of himself, Chris Harrison and Eoin Ross failed to score but played an excellent checking game as did Jeff Popple on defence. Scott Burke in the net has improved steadily during the season and came up with several good saves.

The Bantams will play either Beaverton or Millbrook in the next round if they can eliminate Angus in their Tuesday night encounter. Watch for posters for the details of the next game.

The Haliburton Peewees had no trouble with Angus in semi-final action Sunday evening. Here, as Jaro Cooper and Jason Smith move in on goal, the Peewees score their second of the night -- on a blistering drive from Cooper (number four).

Gary Burch deflected this centring pass from Pete Lymburner behind Steve Kirkpatrick in the Curry Motors goal during a third-period comeback bid by Haliburton Lumber. The two teams battled to a 7-7 draw, but first place goes to Curry's on the basis of their number of wins for the season. Playoff action begins next week.

Lots of action in Wilberforce hockey play

Tri-County action saw Inter-City Tire challenged by Maynooth Friday night in the first game of their series. The exciting play delighted the many fans who turned out to cheer on their respective teams, but when the final buzzer sounded our local fellows emerged with a whopping 8-1 win.

The second game will be this Friday, February 25 in Bancroft. Bring your own cheering section and come enjoy some good hockey.

There were two minor hockey games this past weekend; Apsley won 2-0 in the Novice division, and also defeated Monmouth pee-wees 4-1. Two of the littlest players proved good things come in small packages when Chris Harvey scored the lone goal against Apsley, while Jeff Anderson picked up the assist.

A highly-successful day was enjoyed Saturday when the second Gary Agnew Memorial Tournament saw seven Peterborough teams, along with our local bantams, struggle to determine this year's winner. From the moment number one hockey fan Philip Agnew dropped the puck to officially open the tournament, our own local team started doing everything right and continued throughout the day.

In their first game they defeated Immaculate Conception 5-3, then went on to win 8-2 against St Paul's in game two. It was no stopping them then as they defeated St Anne's 'B' in a close 4-3 final, making them the tournament's number one team of the day. Immaculate Conception were the 'B' division winners when they downed the all-girl's team Queensway Restaurant. Monmouth player John-Paul Dettler was chosen as most valuable player of the tournament. The beautiful trophies for the winners, as well as ribbons for all the participating players were donated by Agnew's Red and White.

A good many spectators were on hand throughout the day, to enjoy the action. All in all it was a fine day of hockey for everyone concerned.

Saturday night provided a different form of entertainment on ice as the Monmouth Figure Skating Club displayed their talents to a full house of delighted spectators. The ladies hockey team then faced off against the Volunteer Firemen for a comical demonstration of a form of hockey seldom enjoyed. The final score was: a lot of fun for players and audience!

The minor hockey schedule for February 26:

- Novices play at home against Bancroft at 12:00 noon
- Pee-wees meet Bancroft here at 2:00 pm
- Atoms meet Bancroft here at 1:00 pm
- Bantams meet Bancroft here at 3:00 pm.

Curry Motors and Haliburton Lumber tie 7-7 -- but Curry's win league title

There couldn't have been a closer finish in Industrial League play.

Haliburton Lumber and Curry Motors were tied for first heading into Monday's final games. When the smoke had cleared, the two strong clubs had skated to an exciting 7-7 tie. By virtue of the fact that Curry's won more games on the season, they have won first place.

Joe Roberts managed to win the scoring title -- even though Roger Bain connected for five points in the 7-7 tie.

In the early game, Emmerson Lumber scored two goals in the third period to drop Bishop and Wilson 4-1.

Emmerson's 4,

Bishop and Wilson 1

Bishop and Wilson drew first blood in the contest. Steve Cooper connected from Lee Bull and Kim Emmerson at 4:15. But that proved to be the only time Larry Hartin was beaten on the night.

At 5:43 of the first Mark Schell scored from Joe Roberts and Dean Curry, to end first period scoring.

Scott Cook scored what proved to be the winner in the second, from Paul Morrisette and Bill Irvine, with 2:15 left in the second. Hartin and George Schmid were both hot in goal.

In the third, with just five seconds gone, Jim McPhail got the insurance marker from Morrisette, and with 4:25 to go Dean Curry scored from Joe Roberts and Scott Cook. The assist for Roberts on the last goal earned him the top scorer's award.

The teams are now preparing for next week's first round of the playoffs. An added bonus for Emmerson's is the return of Larry Hartin to their goal -- he's a proven playoff performer.

Haliburton Lumber 7
Curry Motors 7
The biggest crowd of the Industrial League season took in this contest Monday night.

In the first period Bob Nichol opened the scoring for Curry's from Brian Black with 9:49 left. John Robinson scored from Brian Black with 8:06 left to close out first period scoring.

But Haliburton Lumber fought back in the second. Roger Bain made it 2-1 with 8:12 to go, scoring from Steve Barker. Then Glen Fick connected from Phil Barry with 4:51 showing on the clock. The second period ended with the score tied at two.

That set the stage for a spine-chilling third. Haliburton Lumber's Bain scored at the one minute mark, from Neil Sisson to give Haliburton Lumber a 3-2 lead. Then with 12:09 to go, Derwin Barry scored from Bain and it was 4-2.

But Curry's roared back with three quick ones. Jim Burk scored unassisted with 11:16 left, then Uli Greber scored from John Robinson and Jim Winn with 10:52 to play. The go-ahead goal was scored by Greber, from Renie Bonfield, with 7:49 to go.

On a breakaway feed from Bob Nichol, Brian Black skated the length of the ice to beat Bitman, and with a 6-4 lead things looked good for Curry's.

But Haliburton Lumber weren't beat yet. Gary Burch connected on a Pete Lymburner centering pass (Rich Howe also got an assist) to make it 6-5, and then, nine seconds later, Ken Riley scored from Derwin Barry and Roger Bain to tie it.

With 4:09 to go Bain scored from Riley and Derwin Barry.

But with 3:19 to go Jim Winn found the low corner after taking a pass from Tom Curry -- and that's how it ended.

Ex-champs now fighting a deadly disease

It was back in May, 1971, when the Haliburton Huskies won the all-Ontario Junior "D" championship. It was a tough, scrappy team -- and a team made up of a handful of "veterans" and quite a few midget-aged skaters.

But when the chips were down, the Huskies were able to nose out the Exeter Hawks 6-5 before a standing-room only crowd of 1700 at the Dysart community centre, in the final game of a best-of-season series.

That same team will be reforming this week-end for a fund-raising hockey game -- and will be taking on an all-star team from the Haliburton Industrial League.

Some of the stars of the old Huskies club included Craig and Derrell Stamp, goalie Lew Dummitt, John "King" Parish, Rick Wood, and Gerry McElwain -- to name but a few.

That team lost only twice on home ice throughout the entire season.

They are battling a new enemy now -- cystic fibrosis. Gerry McElwain's young son Ryan has the disease.

According to published reports, CF "affects the body's exocrine glands, which secrete tears, sweat, saliva and mucus. In the lungs, thick glue-like mucus can make breathing difficult and create an ideal environment for infections."

"In the digestive system, thick mucus blocks the flow of pancreatic enzymes necessary for normal digestion."

Come on out to the Dysart arena, this Saturday night, and see some good hockey -- and at the same time, help to fight this life-threatening disease.

There was an invitational curling bonspiel held at the Dysart curling club last week between seniors from Minden and Haliburton. The winners are, from left to right, Jack MacDonald, Stuart Martin, Bernice Scott and Bruce Armstrong.

Blues drop decision to Bancroft Saturday

The Novice Blues travelled to Bancroft on Saturday and were defeated 4-1. Bancroft, who are in second place in the league standings opened with three consecutive goals. Greg Brohman made the score 3-1 when he scored from the slot after receiving a pass from Jason Casey. The goal was a result of hard work from Jordon Howard, Matthew Williams and Mike Rosenberg.

Haliburton's Greg Stamp, Chad Bain and Brett Jackson had scoring chances but were stopped by the Bancroft goalie.

Todd Hargreaves played goal for Haliburton and kept the score close with excellent saves.

The Blue team is preparing for the Novice B playoff tournament on March 12 in Bancroft.

The Novice Blues ended up in third place behind the two Bancroft teams.

The House league schedule is now over in all levels of play. The executive have decided to run a tournament in each town to decide the winner. This format eliminates travel and brings the boys together for a grand finale. Haliburton will host the Peewee playoff tournament starting at 9:00 am this Saturday. Haliburton teams stand an excellent chance after placing first (Haliburton II team coached by Randy Warburton; and second (Haliburton HeadNuts coached by Walt Prime).

The consolation final game will be at 2:00 and the championship game will be at 3:00.

HeadNuts prepare for tournament next weekend in Haliburton

On Saturday, February 19 the HeadNuts travelled to Bancroft for their last game of the regular season. They started off well by outscored Bancroft 2-1 in the first period on goals by Mike McKay from Mark Robinson and Allan Ryde-man from Mike McKay.

A let-down in the second period allowed Bancroft to go ahead by a 5-2 lead.

In the third Haliburton fell apart and were outscored 6-1 for a final score of 11-3, with Allan Ryde-man getting the only marker for Haliburton.

Peewees slaughter Angus

The Haliburton Peewees opened their best of five series in Angus this past Friday evening and came away with a convincing 10-4 victory. The local boys came out strong and had a 7-0 lead before Angus could get on the scoreboard.

Erin Nicholls was the big gun for the team in this game counting five goals and adding one assist. Jaro Cooper also played a strong game counting three goals and one assist while Jeff Francis had two goals and Colin Hunter added a single.

Gavin McKnight continued his steady play in the Haliburton net to make the victory a team effort. Summary: Erin Nicholls (assist Greg Scheffee); Jaro Cooper (assist Jeff Warburton); Jaro Cooper (assist Ron Perrin); Jaro Cooper (assist Colin Hunter); Nicholls (unassisted); Jeff Francis (assist Nicholls); Nicholls (assist Philip Johnston); Nicholls (unassisted); Colin Hunter (assist Cooper); Nicholls (unassisted).

On Sunday the boys returned home before a large winter carnival crowd and came up with another big effort skating off with a 12-3 victory.

Summary: Cooper (assist Warburton and Smith); Nicholls (unassisted); Scheffee (assist Nicholls and Francis); Smith (assist Warburton and Perrin); Hunter (assist Mitchell and Smith); Hunter (unassisted); Francis (assist Hunter and Nicholls); Nicholls (assist Francis and Johnston); Nicholls (unassisted); Cooper (assist Warburton and Johnston); Cooper (assist Smith and Warburton).

As the team lost the coin toss they have to travel to Angus on Thursday for the third and possibly the final game of this series. If a fourth game is needed it will be played this Saturday at 6:30. The Peewee team are playing sound two-way exciting hockey -- so why not get out to the next home game and cheer on the boys in their bid for an Ontario championship?

Tran LaRue (number ten) grabbed that loose puck and stuffed it home seconds after this shot was taken. Our Bantams rolled to an easy win over Angus in their semi-final game Sunday night. The series may wind up this week.

Humbugs are the new leaders in Candy bowling action

The Humbugs, led by Sybil Hunt, take the lead in the third series with nine points -- a five point lead over the Smarties and the Turtles who tie for second place with four points each. The Gumdrops bring up the rear with three points.

The Chunkies, with a total of 90 points, and the Big Six with a total of 84 points battle now for the league championship.

High bowlers this week were Harry Henderson,

264, 220, (680 triple), Muriel Peters, 283, 219, (647 triple), Kay Barry, 225, 222, 200 (647 triple).

The Haliburton Winter Carnival -- fun for the whole family

The 1983 Haliburton Carnival was a success beyond all the expectations of its organizers.

Blessed by mild weather, the events attracted near-record crowds. Pat Kennedy reports that twice the number of snowmobile and ATV racers expected took part in Head Lake racing. There was a good crowd at the arena, the curling rink and the Legion for events there, and well over a hundred spectators took in the logging events.

Skinninglans

Over at Sir Sam's Ski area there were a variety of events for skiers to take part in. The best overall male skier in the Curry Motors downhill event was Mike Irwin of Toronto. The best female skier in the competition was Leslie Pierson of Hamilton.

Winners in other categories included Doris Pierson of Oshawa, Ed Tustin of Toronto, Kathleen Clarke of Toronto, and Rob Martin of Toronto.

The best costumes were sports by the Heinenan and Pape families of Georgetown -- who skied the slopes dressed as the seven dwarfs. Lyn Wyslyk of Toronto dressed as an expectant nurse, while Kim Lewis of Toronto had the third-best costume with her strawberry outfit.

Lumberman's Show

Ross Barry of RR1 Haliburton was the winner in the chainsaw competition Saturday outside the arena. Buck Cowan and Grant Clement sliced through a tree-trunk in just 15.5 seconds -- and nipped Ken and Ross McKnight by half a second for top honors.

Diana McHoul and Lisa Arntz were the top ladies in cross-cut competition, taking just one minute and 11 seconds to cut through the log.

Lawrence Packard won the chair carving event.

In the tree falling competition Buck Cowan won by landing his "tree" just eight inches away from the peg. Bob Howe was second, and Bruce Pettit third.

Organizer Kim Emmerson said he was very pleased with the large turnout under sunny skies Saturday. The champion logger -- Buck Cowen.

Ice fishing

There's no question who won the ice fishing competition. Art Ouellette pulled in a nine-pound speckled trout for the win.

It was the biggest speckled trout caught in decades in this area -- and the world record for a speck is 14 pounds, ten ounces. Art plans to have the fish mounted.

Other top fishermen and women include Gord McWalters and his wife, Kay, who caught 5.3 and 4.8 pound pickerel respectively. Kim Roberts

International darts

This first-time event proved to be one of the best of the Carnival. A packed house in the Royal Canadian Legion (Branch 129) auditorium took in the action, as seven players from Canada took on seven players from the Red Lion Pub in Deadman's Cross, England.

Jack Morrison of Haliburton was the only local player able to beat the British.

Organizer Reg Crockett said he "couldn't praise the crowd enough" for their attendance and silence during shooting. As well, he thanked the many volunteers who helped make the event possible.

The event will definitely be held again next year, said Crockett. Games were played over long-distance telephone, with scores in England being relayed to Canada.

Carnival queen and princesses

The crowning of this year's carnival queen took place Friday night -- and the lucky winner was Melanie Dewey of Gooderham. This year's princesses were Kathy Tyler and Jenny Rendall.

Winners in the ice sculpture competition were the Packard family of Haliburton, with their sculpture of ET. Next came the Youngdale family of Haliburton, with their snowmobile.

Chalkdusters hockey tourney

A tough team from Minden made it all the way to the finals of the Chalkdusters tournament -- but lost 3-1 to Orillia.

The "old" Chalkdusters lost their first game to Perth 4-3, then dropped a 9-2 decision to Peterborough in consolation play. The "young" Chalkdusters were defeated 6-2 by Uxbridge and 5-2 by Lindsay.

Minden edged Peterborough 2-1, knocked off a rowdy Perth club 7-6, edged Uxbridge 3-2 and lost the final to Orillia, as mentioned 3-1. The final game was an exciting one, as Minden trailed by just one goal until late in the third period.

Curling Results

Winners of the three game high competition, with a total of 52 points, were players in Steve Colliver's rink. Besides Steve, the rink was comprised of Sue Bennett and Merv and Linda Mintz.

The Morris Anderson rink of Bobcaygeon were second in three-game-high competition, with 51 3/4 points. Bob Colliver's Haliburton rink was third with 50 1/2 points.

In two-game high competition the winner was the Bob Rodgers rink of Oshawa, with 42 points.

Randy Colliver's Haliburton curlers were next, with 40 3/4 points, and the Jim Holmes rink of Haliburton placed third with 39 1/2 points.

Wayne Shea's rink scored from Bobcaygeon, with 29 3/4 points, took the single game high score.

Thorny Bailey's rink from Oshawa took home a prize for scoring the least number of points in one game -- none!

The events were sponsored by the PineStone Inn.

For All Seasons

Little rivers gently merge
In flowing to the sea,
Where dancing wavelets kiss the shore
In joyous ecstasy.
The vault of Heaven smiles on earth
With kindly, loving eyes,
It sows, each day the fruitful world
The bounty of the skies.
The trees begin to live again,
They blossom in the Spring,
And then bear fruit and ripen
When the summer reigns as King.
But all too soon, the chilly winds
Of Autumn come to call,
And cause the trees to shiver
And the russet leaves to fall.
Now Winter rears his hoary head,
His lance drips ice and snow,
His stallion leaves a trail of white
Where'er his hooves may go.
Most flowers need the seasons,
The blessings from above,
But one defies all seasons,
The blossom known as love.

Government -- they're in our kitchens now!

by Jim Wally

Cooking has always been a hobby of mine and something I really enjoyed; that is until the big switch. The changeover from standard weights and measures to this thing called 'Metric' or 'Mitre' or something like that anyway. I liked the pound, the cup, the tablespoon and the teaspoon.

If you liked lots of raisins in your cookies you grabbed a large coffee mug, or if you didn't like so many nuts in your cookies you used a teacup and so on. Any way that you could follow the recipe and still get the taste you wanted.

Now everything is worked out exact measurement; in grams, there is no room left for imagination. It takes hours to figure out how many grams in a teaspoon or how many cups in 500 grams. By the time you get supper cooked it's breakfast time.

Besides I like my old measuring tools, how can a government, whom I help pay, tell me to throw them out and buy new ones?

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!

Dear Readers: Each week I try my very best to tell you what is happening at Hyland Crest. But I get discouraged and tell my wife I'll quit. You can't please everyone, so to heck with it. But God doesn't like a quitter. I don't know why I'm feeling just a little bitter. I'll write a letter that will either knock 'em cold or one to bring a little smile to both young and old.

We are sorry the Burgess family are down with the flu, couldn't take the service Sunday night and were feeling rather blue. Well you need not have worried John, the Thompsons did just fine. We enjoyed the service and had a social time.

Della Curry's son came and took her for a drive. Winnie Johnson's son came too, by the way, a visit from a son just makes a mother's day. There may be others that we don't know about, there's always someone coming in and someone going out. We were sorry to learn of the death of Helen Lee's brother, our sympathy to Helen and relatives.

The movies Monday night were grand, our heritage was the wild land, but what gave us a thrill was the fine work a woman was doing with porcupine quills.

Rev Westhaver of Minden United Church who lives just across the way, conducted a nice service in the chapel Tuesday. Agnes Taylor is ill and couldn't come to play so Doris filled in and did a good job by the way.

Tuesday night the Watson Trio came and entertained us fine, the music was good and we had a jolly time. Russell Robertson got up and danced a merry jig which gave us all a thrill, when they play fast music, he just can't sit still.

Wednesday afternoon "The Happy Wanderers" wandered up from Cobocok and came quietly in to Hyland Crest, their car horns didn't honk. They sang "Oh Canada," "Bless this House" and "How Great Thou Art." "Whispering Hope and Snow Bird" and other good old songs and some we hadn't heard.

Thursday afternoon the Salvation Army ladies from Haliburton served us lunch. It was a dreary day. They led us in a sing song and closed with a prayer, before they went away. The Army does a grand job, yes they do indeed, they are always there wherever there is a need.

Jessie Walters is in hospital, what is the matter seems to be a riddle. Ruby Lewis is quite a gadabout, she just gets settled in when her family takes her out.

Linda is having trouble with her teeth and is on a liquid diet, it is our sincere wish that she will soon be eating beefsteak and fish.

Friday was such a lovely day, Grace Coburn came to

Fed. of Ont. Naturalists

For over a decade now, the government of Ontario, prodded onwards by conservation groups, has been trying to arrive at a workable plan to protect the natural features of the Niagara Escarpment, while recognizing the needs of private landowners. Two years ago, a suitable compromise had almost been reached, with the release of the Niagara Escarpment Commission's scaled-down proposed plan. But after a lengthy review by a trio of provincially-appointed hearing officers, it appears that any sort of balanced approach to escarpment planning has been abandoned.

hearing officers approved all three.

For the most part, the hearings officers took the easy way out, by accepting without question the recommendations of local municipalities. Notably, they refused to endorse the recommendations of several municipalities; such as Halton and Burlington, who recommended more stringent protection of some natural areas.

They did accept dozens of proposed deletions from the plan and changes to more liberal designations, even in some cases where individual landowners had opposed such downgrading. For good measure, the hearing officers also would allow more new

Niagara Escarpment

In their four-volume report, the hearing officers put themselves squarely on the side of vested interests. With few exceptions, the recommendations of individual landowners are ignored, unless they were backed by the local municipality. The opinions of conservation groups in support of the Plan were discounted even more, since they had no financial interest in the lands in question.

The same response didn't apply to those with money at stake, however. Three local issues dominated much of the hearings-proposals for a gravel pit near Fonthill, a quarry at Speyside, and a condominium Development in the Beaver Valley. Despite the opposition of neighboring landowners and the obvious conflict with the intentions of the escarpment plan, the lots and new houses in natural areas, and new subdivisions on the "protected" slopes. Finally, they suggest that the province hand over the implementation responsibility for the final plan to local municipalities, with no provision at all for provincial oversight.

The provincial government has not yet accepted the results of this review, and it will no doubt become the centre of much controversy before some resolution is reached. But for those who seek to preserve the beauty and the diversity of Ontario's countryside, this report can only serve as an example of monumental short-sightedness and apathy. It belongs on the same scrap-heap as such boondoggles as the Spadina Expressway and the Pickering airport.

Talk about beginners luck! Tony and Janet Abela of TJ's in Kinmount went ice fishing on Sunday, February 13, with some friends and caught a twelve pound trout and another weighing in at seven pounds. Then there were the ones that got away -- taking line and all.

Happy birthday to Nora Crego on Saturday, February 12. Eight local folks walked in on Nora on St. Valentine's Day complete with one of Aileen Brown's lovely cakes and following lunch, cards were played.

Ann Cain's big day was Wednesday, February 16, and again, one of Aileen's beautiful creations was to be enjoyed on Tuesday, by friends, and to help Ann celebrate. Happy birthday ladies and many more to come.

Results of Galway Wednesday night euchre players: ladies' high: Joyce Wright, ladies' low: Brenda Longhurst, men's high: Bill Menard, men's low: Eldon Thomas, lone hands: Joyce Thomas.

Our Thursday afternoon get togethers at Helen Jones' house are doing fine, thank you. We have a very enjoyable two and a half hours and get a lot of our craft work done. If you're interested, give Helen a call at 488-2219 or myself at 488-2353.

Last Monday four of us Kinmount area girls attended an Avon business meeting at the Haliburton Legion and had an enjoyable few hours. Then, after returning home and saying "hi" to Bill, left for my next door neighbor's, the Hyams, where Renee Hyams was conducting a "Creative Circle" party.

There were nine ladies present who all seemed to enjoy themselves and a delicious lunch followed. Renee stayed on at Joan and Ken Hyams house, leaving the next evening for her home in the Toronto area.

There is at least one young man who really wants work in this area and if you have any legal jobs you could use help with, give me a call for his number.

I spent a pleasurable hour or so at the home of Laura Gaunt, RR1, Kirkfield, one day last week and she was asking after all her Kinmount area friends. Laura has had the flu bug but is now much better.

This past week, on the sick list were: Win Wilson, Helen Grahm, Jean Hollobon, Marion Scott, Shirley Harris who was ill most of her three month holiday in Toronto. Welcome home anyway Shirley. To all who have the winter blahs, cheer up! You know March isn't far away and before you know it it's pushing spring. Well it sounds good anyway!

Happy birthday to Glenn Viney on Sunday, February 20. I hear it's your thirtieth or thereabouts."

The Kinmount Legion Ladies' Auxiliary held an impromptu bake sale in the Legion Hall kitchen following the bingo Friday night, February 18. Everything was sold very quickly and the butter tarts I purchased but didn't need -- were delicious!

Our congratulations to Mrs Yewman of Gooderham who was the lucky winner of $180 in the bingo jackpot, on the fifty-eighth number last Friday night at the Kinmount Legion.

If you have problems regarding housing, family day care, health, welfare, education and recreation, call (705) 457-2733. Cardiff, Dorset and Kinmount resident may call collect. These good people have a motto "We're here to help" so why not let them? I have a list of some of their good deeds and if you wish: give me a call at 488-2353 and I can let you know what they supply. It is all part of the Haliburton County Home Support Services.

Try these for the coming Easter: Hot Cross Buns: for the buns: one package hot roll mix (14 1/2 oz), 1/2 cup currants. For the icing: 1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar, about 1 1/2 tbsp. milk.

Buns: Follow directions on the package for preparing rolls. After the first rising, work in currants during kneading process. Shape into 24 balls. Place in two well greased pyrex round cake dishes for the second rising. When buns have doubled in bulk, bake until golden brown and nicely done. Icing: mix sugar with enough milk to make an icing firm enough to spread. Cool buns slightly. Apply icing with a spoon in the form of a cross on each bun. Time: bake 20-25 minutes, temperature - 375 degrees Fahrenheit, moderate oven. Amount: two dozen buns. Dishes: two pyrex round cake dishes, 8 1/4 inches in diameter. These buns are also nice at Christmas time when you could add red and green cherries.

A number of local folks are (we hope) enjoying their holidays at this time and missing all our spring like weather.

Well folks take care of yourselves, stay well and happy and be here next week. Look to the "Pic of the Past" section today and if it's the Norland Public School class of 1914 you may see some familiar aces. Hilda Chynoweth who is one of our regular ladies' at Helen Jones' house each Thursday was good enough to let me have her copy to show you this week. We sure enjoyed your stories of "days gone by," last week, Hilda.

Happy birthday Orville Cooper from Melissa, Vanessa and Cindy on February 15.

Harley Bennett had surgery last Wednesday, February 16 -- all went well at York County Memorial Hospital in Newmarket.

Mrs Grace Lambert of Kirkfield is in intensive care, room seven, second floor, Wellesley Hospital, in Toronto. We miss you at the bingo.

Wilberforce News

A variety of birds seem to be enjoying this unusually mild winter. Crows and black birds decided to tough it out and can be seen daily. The feeding station has been taken over by flocks of grosbeaks who intimidate even the pugnacious blue jays. Perky little chickadees wait patiently until the bigger birds have had their fill before darting in to secure a little of what is left.

Winter sports are the popular entertainment at this time. The Clubs are hastening to take advantage of what little snow is available. The eighth season of the Tory Hill snowmobile rally takes place on March 5. This has proved to be a popular outing. The participants gather at the Tory Hill Community Centre for a takeoff at 1 pm. After an exhilarating drive across the trails the riders return to the community centre where an appetizing meal awaits them. Later, they can dance the night away at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre. Ruth Strong can supply more details at 448-2847.

Something for everyone on the weekend of February 25 and 26. The Monmouth curling rink has enjoyed a busy season with great games weekly and exciting bonspiels. On the coming February 25 and 26 the men's Industrial Bonspiel takes place, which promises some interesting viewing for those who don't participate.

On February 26 a fish derby will be taking place with action on Dark Lake, Grace Lake and Farquhar Lake. This event is being sponsored by the Legion Branch 624. To cheer the losers there will be one of those famous hootenays in the evening at the Legion Hall. This means lots of fun, music and fabulous refreshments.

This year's World Day of Prayer takes place at the Tory Hill United Church on March 4 at 7:30 pm.

Members of the Royal Canadian Legion have pledged to keep the memory of their fallen comrades ever fresh. Ceremonies take place through the year to show respect and reverence with a laying of wreaths to honor those who fought for our freedom. For some time discussions have been held regarding the need for a cenotaph.

A cenotaph would provide a dignified symbol to mark this special occasion, a place where the people could gather to share in the ceremonies.

We have been informed by the public relations officer of the Legion, branch 624, Ron Buxton, that a fund raising campaign is to be launched to assist in the building of a suitable cenotaph in the village of Wilberforce. Monmouth township residents are invited to make contributions to this project.

For further information get in touch with the Legion fundraising chairman, Harold Floden of Wilberforce who can be reached at the Legion Hall or at 448-237. Receipts will be issued.

Snowmobile Tip: Example of the type of snowmobiler not to follow down the trail: one recently observed jumping his machine across open water on Dark Lake -- it got more than a little wet this past weekend when it went through the ice of Grace River. Realizing what a tragedy the incident could have been, perhaps dry-landing it indefinitely is the answer.

Norland Natter

by KELLY GRAHAM

Hi. Just got back from the taping of Quiz Kids with Michael Morton and Sherry Jewell. Sorry folks! Norland lost again -- this time to Fenelon Falls public school. The score was 26-19. Many thanks to Mr Hough for the dinner at McDonalds afterwards.

I would like to congratulate Earl and Ola Chamberlain of Norland. They will be celebrating their 33rd wedding anniversary on February 24. I wish them many more years of wedded bliss.

My aunt, Alma Graham, recently returned to her home in British Columbia after a month-long visit with her daughter Irene at Camp Borden. Aunt Alma also visited with my family and her other relatives in Norland on her way back to British Columbia last week.

By the way - if you're waiting for skateable ice down at Ward Prk don't hold your breath. It was flooded not too long ago but was soon destroyed by someone racing a car around on it. This act of vandalism has discouraged the people who were flooding the rink and it may be a while before another flooding is attempted.

The hockey pool winner for Saturday, February 12 was Adam Greer. (I wonder if Adam was allowed to stay up to watch the game?)

The local Senior Citizens club had an enjoyable pot luck supper at the Coboconk Community Hall on February 15 at six o'clock. There was said to be a wide variety of foods and after dinner they all played cards.

Just a short reminder about the Ladies Auxiliary White Elephant sale on Saturday, February 26. Some of the things for sale will be toys, records, dishes, books, and knick-knacks. If you have any donations please send them to the school.

Furniture is presently being moved into the new township hall. Does this signal plans for immediate occupancy?

The euchre scores for Thursday, February 17 were as follows: ladies high Flo Alder; men's high -- Doug Taylor; lone hands -- Janice Chynoweth.

Just a couple of lines to let you know that the new postal rates are now in effect. It now costs 37 cents for letters to the United States, 64 cents for overseas delivery and 32 cents for letters delivered within Canada.

The public speakers to represent Norland school against the other Northern schools have been chosen. Melanie Vanier and Lorne Greer were chosen in the Junior division. Paula Janke is their back-up. In the senior division Colleen Janke and myself were chosen. Michael Morton was chosen as our back-up. We will be competing in Coboconk on Tuesday, February 22. The first-place winners will go to Fenelon.

I'm glad to see that Frances Gunn is home and looking well after her short stay in Ross Memorial Hospital.

Well that's all for this week. If you have any interesting items please call me at 454-3707.

Mrs Brown met with several interested people in the library on Wednesday evening to explain the procedure to get an active horticulture society going again. The society folded, due to lack of interest, some years ago.

Now, mainly due to the efforts of the Harold Altons and Myrtle Faulkner, hopefully a new active society will emerge. On March 8 at 8:00 pm there will be another meeting in the library.

Meantime, contact the above names and become an active supporter of this group. We have a quaint little village and with a little extra effort we can make it more attractive.

We need everyone to join so won't you pay a $2 membership? It's a promise, you personally will not have a lot to do, only for your own benefit, to beautify your own property.

Several area ladies have attended the Avon meeting at the Haliburton Legion on Tuesday.

Mrs Frances Nesbitt had lunch with Mr and Mrs Joe Warburton at Minden on Tuesday. The annual convention at Faith Tabernacle comes up March 8. If you are in the area at that time drop in to hear the guest speaker.

Mrs A Marles, yours truly, and Mrs Rod Harrison of

Dorset News

by PHYLIS BRISCOE

"Education is what you get from reading the small print; experience is what you get from not reading it."

We are still enjoying spectacular weather, with beautiful sunny days and cold nights. With areas in the United States having severe snow storms, blizzards, heavy rains, mud slides, and so on we are very fortunate, indeed.

Congratulations to Mrs Joan Fortney, who celebrated her birthday on Thursday, February 10. May she enjoy many more. Also, much happiness for the future is wished Rhoda and Walt Taylor, who celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary on Saturday, February 12.

A group of young mothers in the area have gotten together and organized a co-op play time for preschool children, the object being to get the youngsters acquainted and used to mixing with other children. The operation is being conducted by the mothers themselves and will be held in the Dorset Community Centre on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 am to 11:30 am.

If anyone has any toys or play things that they think might be useful, they can call Elva Woods, 766-2292, Carey Lock, 766-2246 or Doris MacDonald, at 766-2885.

Sounds like a worthwhile venture and should be enjoyable for the children and for the mothers.

There was a surprise birthday party for Mrs Ellen Avery on Tuesday, February 8. A group of 17 relatives gathered at her son Graham's home on Paint Lake Road, where there were gifts and party food provided and a happy time was enjoyed by the birthday girl and her family.

The Dorset Teen Group had an enjoyable evening recently when they rented video tapes and had an evening's entertainment.

The Dorset Community Centre building fund committee are still busy trying to raise funds for the new building. They have approximately $50,000 to date, shown by the thermometer which is located at the site where the new building will be.

This summer they are having the annual events that were planned and started last year as fundraisers. These include the Arts and Craft show, community bake sale and flea market. The date for these events will be announced later. They are sponsoring a dance at the community centre on Saturday, February 26. This is to be preceded by a sleigh ride, for which I don't have the details but will in next week's news. In the meantime, you may call Ron Payne at 2282 or 2322 for particulars. The members of the committee consist of Ron Payne, chairman; Joyce McKay, treasurer; Marie Warrentin, secretary; John Walker, John Clayton, Joanne Buss, and Brian Hughes.

We are happy to hear that Sylvia Hooey is out and about after a prolonged illness that kept her confined and miserable.

H.H. Give your washing machine a thorough cleansing now and then by adding three cups of white vinegar to normal water cycle, with the machine empty. It cleans away clogs and soap scum.

Gooderham News

by MARY HADLEY

Haliburton County Home Support Services has been successful in securing a young girl hired through an Ontario Career Action Program funded by the provincial government to assist seniors to stay in their own homes for a longer period of time, by providing them with some low cost home help.

For as little as $2.50 an hour she will come to your home, to do your housework, laundry, shopping, and so on, and thus help with jobs you are unable to do for yourself. It may be for three hours a week or only once every two months. If you can make use of this available service, call 457-2941.

Eileen and Ken Maguire celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary recently at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs Walter Bryant, of Pontypool. Here they had a happy day as they received many of their "old" friends, as well as some more recently acquired.

We extend our congratulations and best wishes for many more years of health and happiness. May the loving memories of years gone by enrich the years that lie ahead.

Judy and Blaine Alsop, with their son, Ward, of Cameron, visited with their aunt and uncle, Vivian and Tommy Dovell last Sunday. Rosaline and Murray Ma-dill of Peterborough spent a couple of days last weekend at their home here. It was good to see Murray looking well after recuperating from surgery last fall.

Sandra and Dale Dovell, with their two daughters, spent last weekend in Oshawa.

Last Sunday fire totally destroyed the home of Mr and Mrs Mike Bateau on Tamarack Lake. The Glamorgan firemen were alerted but the fire had made too much headway and so it was impossible to save it. This young couple, who have two small sons, lost everything, which must be a hard blow at this time.

Vivian and Tommy Dovell called at Case Manor nursing home in Bobcaygeon recently. They visited two residents, Myrtle Millburn and Albert Madill there.

They report that Myrtle was able to go to the dining table in her wheel chair and seemed in good spirits. Albert Madill, 94 years old, was glad to see them and to recall past memories.

Bob Hunter underwent surgery at Toronto General Hospital last Thursday. The doctors found it necessary to replace a valve in his heart.

We hope for a rapid recovery and that he will be able to enjoy his fishing expeditions this summer.

Joanne and Doug James, with their family, spent a weekend recently at their Pine Lake cottage.

by GLADYS KRELLER

Hi everyone, I'm sorry that there was no column in the paper last week, but I didn't have any news to report, and I don't have too much this week either. With the weather the way it is there is not too much happening. Sherman and Mary Griffen of Lindsay spent the weekend at their cottage and attended the dance at the West Guilford recreational centre on Saturday evening.

World's day of Prayer will be celebrated at the Maple Lake United Church at 2:00 on Friday, March 4. All other churches in the area have been invited to attend and participate in the services which has been written by the women of the Caribean. Guest soloist will be Ruth Pogue of Kennis Lake. She is the soprano soloist of the Haliburton Guild choir. Everybody is invited to attend.

Here is a terrific recipe for creamy fudge: 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tbsps. butter, 2 tbsps. corn syrup, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Combine the sugar, milk, corn syrup and butter and cook slowly, stirring occasionally. Boil until 238 degrees (or the soft ball stage) is reached. Remove from fire, add vanilla but don't stir. Cool until 110 degrees and then beat until it loses its shiny look. Pour into a buttered pan and mark into squares.

Well that's all for now so if you have any news please call me at 754-3005.

Plan carefully to enjoy a balanced diet

by LESLIE ORPANA
Haliburton, Kawartha,
Pine Ridge District
Health Unit

There are two inescapable facts about foods: 1) We have to spend money to obtain food, and 2) we all need to eat to survive.

We enjoy the tremendous selection of food in our marketplace. Sometimes though, it offers too much temptation and we don't shop wisely. Many of us are being especially careful with our budgets these days, because of the present economic situation. Have you asked yourself lately - "what should I give up, to save money on food?" Some people are concerned about whether or not they can afford a nutritious diet on a tight food budget.

Nutritionists across Canada will be responding to these concerns during Nutrition Month in 1983. Here are some of their suggestions, to help you cope with food budgeting.

Examine how you feel about food budgeting

Your attitude towards spending your food dollar will determine your success in getting the most for your money. Don't look at what you have to "give up". Instead focus on what you gain. For example, by "giving up" a large serving of meat, you gain nutritionally because you are eating better when you choose only two servings from the meat and alternate group (that's a total of four to six ounces of meat per day).

Take stock of your eating habits

Often our food choices are made automatically. We may not even consider cost of nutrition before buying familiar foods. Becoming aware of your present eating style will provide a starting point for planning future changes. For example, how often do you buy soft drinks, cakes, cookies and snack foods such as potato chips? These foods add to the grocery bill, but contribute very little nutrition to your diet.

Are you in the habit of including meat at every supper? Would you consider serving eggs, cheese or beans as an alternate source of protein? Nutritionally there is little difference in protein value. Yet the cost savings are substantial, and you'd have that money available to spend on other foods.

How many pre-prepared meals a week do you buy? Remember, you're paying more for food that someone else has sliced, seasoned or cooked. Keep track of how often you eat out and how many "packaged" meals you buy in the next week. You might be surprised at where your money goes. Why not "pay" yourself by making it yourself!

Is a nutritious diet expensive?

There are many ways in which you can choose foods and still have a nutritious diet. For example, a 1/2 cup shredded cabbage and 1/2 cup cauliflower each represent one serving from the fruit and vegetable group. Choosing one or the other will provide similar nutrients. The cost (especially in winter) however is very different. 1/2 cup cabbage costs about three cents, 1/2 cup cauliflower costs about 33 cents). In other words, your choices within each food group can be either very costly or very inexpensive.

Here are two menus with similar meal patterns and quantities of food. Each menu meets Canada's Food Guide recommendations for an adult. The big difference between them is cost!

Menu One: Lower Cost

Breakfast
1/2 cup apple juice $0.13
1/2 cup oatmeal $0.06
1 cup 2% milk $0.25
2 slices toast $0.08
1 tbsp. margarine $0.05

1 tbsp. jam $0.08
Lunch
1 sandwich (2 slices cheese) on whole wheat bread $0.52
coleslaw $0.10
1 apple $0.16
instant coffee $0.05

Dinner
4 oz. hamburger $0.60
2 med. baked potatoes $0.06
1 tbsp. margarine $0.05
1/2 cup peas (frozen) $0.18
1/2 cup instant pudding $0.30

Snacks
1 apple $0.16
1/2 cup ice cream $0.16
Total Cost/Day $2.99

The Thane Yeos are home after a rest in the sun in the lovely south - Florida! But really, we have had real mild weather here too, so if you can't afford to go to Florida, remember its almost as good right here in Coboconk! The ice is slowly melting so spring is on its way!

Lindsay agricultural report

Milk producers hold annual meeting

Ken McKinnon, chairman of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, was the guest speaker at the recent annual meeting of the Victoria County milk producers. McKinnon, a dairy farmer from Bruce county, gave an excellent outline of the current situation in the dairy industry on a world-wide basis and related this to current situations in Ontario.

The overpopulation of milk in both the US and in the European Economic Community has produced a glut of dairy products making any Canadian exports extremely difficult to achieve and has depressed the world prices for milk products. This has resulted in reductions in market share quotas for Canadian dairymen and the current high demand for any quota available for sale, has put the price of quota up to record levels.

Ken McKinnon stressed there are three things which dairy farmers should not cut back on at this time. These are participating in milk recording programs, participating in a herd health program and feeding the cows well, so they will produce at their potential.

Milk recording programs include both ROP and DHI - at the moment any farmers not on a recording program can get on the DHI program, at least as an owner-sampler.

The Somatic Cell Count report which every dairyman receives monthly, is an effective guide to the incidence of mastitis in a herd. Any farmer with counts over 300,000 should be discussing this with their veterinarian to prevent serious udder problems.

When a cow isn't being fed properly, the cost of producing a unit of milk goes up. Ken stated every dairy farmer should be testing his hay, haylage and corn silage each year, then getting a balanced ration prepared based on those tests.

East central farm show

A farm show for east central Ontario will be held in Cambray on Wednesday and Thursday, March 9 and 10. This is the first time a program of this sort has been planned for this area. The Fenelon township community centre in Cambray will be the location.

Forty-five agricultural businesses will be exhibiting in the show. This includes seed, feed, fertilizer, machinery, banks, insurance, herd health and safety.

The Farm Show will be open from 10:00 am to 10:00 pm on Wednesday, March 9, and from 10:00 am - 4:00 pm on Thursday, March 10.

Each afternoon there will be a short program starting at 1:30 pm with a featured guest speaker. On Wednesday, the guest speaker will be Mr. Dave Pelletier, P. Ag. from the UCO in Mississauga, speaking on the subject "1983 Agricultural Outlook." The special speaker on Thursday will be Dr. Bob Sheard, from the Land Resource Science Department, University of Guelph, speaking on "Red Clover Plowdown."
